

Lois Frank

Lois Frank, a past president of AJC Atlanta, was the 1998 recipient of the Selig Distinguished Service Award and is currently a member of AJC's national Board of Governors. Lois was appointed by former Georgia Governor Roy Barnes to serve on the Georgia Juvenile Justice Commission, a position she held until 2006, and she currently serves on the Executive Committee of the Georgia Budget and Policy Institute. Lois is past national chair of the Jewish Coalition for Literacy, the 2002 recipient of the National Conference for Community and Justice Award, and a former National Chair of the Jewish Council for Public Affairs. Lois is also past president of Women's Philanthropy of the Jewish Federation of Greater Atlanta and a former National Board Member of MAZON.